Latin or Western Roman Empire: In the 4th century, after the death of Constantine, the ROMAN Empire was split in two. The western section was headed by the bishop of Rome (pope) in Italy. At the time Rome & much of Italy was in ruins because of continued invasions by barbarian tribes.

Byzantine or Eastern Empire: This section was ruled by the Emperor whose capital was Constantinople.

Eastern Europe Empire

Basilica: An ancient Roman floor plan for a style of large building that was used as a meeting place and a hall of judgment. The plan consisted of a central nave, which ended in an apse, flanked by two side aisles. This design became very influential early in Christian architecture and the term Basilica now describes any church with a long nave ending in an apse, with two side aisles.
